Buffaloes Slaughter Raiders Again!

As soon as the game was over Buffalo fans raced onto the field at Jones Stadium to congratulate the thundering Herd.

Widest Score Margin Ever Made In Grid Rivalry With Texas Tech

Backed by at least 2,000 avid fans, the West Texas State Buffaloes pulled Jones Stadium down on top of Texas Tech Saturday night in Lubbock in the greatest victory of West Texas in the 21-game rivalry of the two schools. Sparked by magnificent running of Dave Corley, Charlie Sanders and Ronnie Mills, the Herd rang up their fourth victory of the season to the tune of 34-14. The win was also the first of the season in Border Conference play. Never before had the Buffaloes scored more than 28 points against Tech. The crowd was estimated at 20,500, a figure that was swelled by 489 who rode a special train to Lubbock and at least another 1,500 who went in private cars. The Red Raiders trailed the Herd through the entire game as the Buffaloes charged right and left and through the middle of the Tech line.

Only one pass was attempted by West Texas during the game, as the Buffs pulled in 398 yards on the ground against only 135 for Tech. Three of the five touchdowns were scored by fullback Sanders. Corley made one on a 67-yard run that stands out in the fans' minds as the highlight of the game, and Mills picked up the fifth on a 25-yard dash.

Tommy Coffey made three of the conversions and Archie Souter made the fourth. Tech's only threat to West Texas was in a passing attack that saw 11 out of 19 passes completed for a total of 115 yards.

The Buffs could do little wrong. Two drives that stalled short of the goal line were converted to advantages when Buffaloes recovered Tech fumbles at nearly the same spot. Another drive was stopped, only to get started again when Bubba Hillman grabbed a Tech pass. Tech fumbled four times and lost three of them to the Herd. West Texas fumbled only once, and lost the ball that time—but immediately afterward one of the Tech miscues was picked up.

Driving to the Raider nine in the first quarter, the Buffs stalled and lost the ball on downs. But three plays later, Hillman pulled the pass in as he was falling to the ground on the 32. Picking up where they had left off, the Herd moved to the 29 with Mills carrying and Hillman slipped the ball to Sanders on the draw play. Sanders skipped by two would-be tacklers, headed for the sideline, ran right through another Tech tackler and scored the first touchdown. Coffey's kick made it 7-0 as the clock showed 4:41 left to play.

After taking the kickoff and making 20 yards for a first down on the Buff 44, Tech tried four more times for another first down. On the fourth, gigantic Philip Wright bulldozed through to stop Raider Doug Duncan for no gain, and the Buffs were ready for another score.

In 12 plays West Texas moved to the Tech 12. On the 13th, Mills went to the five, but fumbled and lost the ball. But on the next play, Duncan fumbled and Ken Ballard recovered on the Tech 2. Sanders pushed the ball over and Coffey's kick made the score 14-0.

Fearing to be left behind, the Red Raiders took the kickoff and flew from their 27 to the goal in 14 plays. Some 46 of those yards were gained on three passes—two from Buddy Hill and one from John Riddle. Hill eased the ball the last yard for the score and made his own extra point to make the score 14-7.

The Herd came right back to push the point-margin further apart. Taking the ball on the 20 when Tech kicked over the goal line, the Buffs moved to the 32 for a first down and it became Corley's time to shine.

Sweeping wide around his right end, scooted into the secondary he held up while Joe Brooks took out two Tech tacklers with only one block, and then took off for the end-zone. Souter converted to put the score at 21-7, the halftime score.

As the second half opened, the Buffs stopped Tech on the 16, pushed them back to the 8, and rushed so fast that Hill's punt went only 17 yards to the Tech 25.

On the second play, Mills ran his 25-yard scoring run and Coffey converted again to put the score at 28-7.

On the next kickoff, Tech got its last touchdown of the game. Moving from the Tech 37, the Raiders made 63 yards in one drive—Hill picking up the last seven and making his own conversion again. The score: 28-14.

Making the night perfect, the Buffaloes scored again in the last quarter. The Herd moved the ball down to the Tech nine before they were stopped on downs. The Raiders took over, but Hill fumbled and Hillman recovered on the 11.

West Texas picked up a first down on the one and Sanders made his third touchdown. Coffey's kick was wide, but the score was a whopping 34-14.

Buffalo fans swarmed the field as the final whistle blew. A good percentage of the Tech fans had already left the stadium.

Continue Border Battle Saturday

Fresh from its most decisive win over Texas Tech in history, West Texas State continues its bid for a Border Conference football championship Saturday night against New Mexico A&M. Kickoff time is 8 p. m. in Buffalo Stadium.

The Buffs' easy 34-14 win over rival Tech at Lubbock Saturday was their fourth straight of the season, leaving them one of six undefeated, untied college units in Texas.

New Mexico A&M, in the second year of a rebuilding program, has dropped five in a row despite showing signs of marked improvement over the 1955 club.

Coach Tony Cavallo's Aggies led Tulsa at half-time before bowing, 26-7, and was tied with California Poly and New Mexico University at the intermission before going down to defeat. Other games were dropped to Arizona State and McMurry.

In their last start, the Aggies lost a 14-13 thriller to McMurry, a team the Buffs defeated, 33-7, early in the season.

Coach Cavallo has abandoned his multiple offense of last season and relies entirely on a split-T attack. Sophomore Foy Lowery, a Carlsbad, N. M., 170-pound handles the offense and has two exceptionally good runners, halfback Joe Kelly and fullback Wallace Ferguson, to make it click.

Kelly made all-Border Conference second team as a freshman last year. The Aggie ground offense, incidentally, outgained strong Arizona State, 164-140, while losing to the Sun Devils, 28-7.

Coach Frank Kimbrough reported only one casualty from the Tech game. Third-string quarterback Lindley Davis, 170-pound Childress junior, suffered a broken thumb and will be lost for a few weeks.

Wearing a dinner jacket, carnation, levis and boots, Dr. James P. Cornette celebrates the victory over Texas Tech by riding a spotted donkey three times down the field at an assembly Monday morning.

Col. Lumry Ordered To Japan, Leaves Canyon with Family Today

Col. Raymond H. Lumry, for the past four years professor of military science and tactics at West Texas State College, has received orders for a three-year tour of duty in Japan. He and his family will leave Canyon Wednesday.

The Lumrys will be on leave until Dec. 3, when Col. Lumry will report to the Oakland, Calif., Army Terminal. He will be an operations and training officer on an Army Corps or higher level.

Col. Lumry came to WT in 1952 as commanding officer of the newly established Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit here. He had just returned to the United States after a three-year tour of duty in Turkey with an American Military Mission.

The unit at WT was one of 25 college units throughout the nation to set up for "branch general" training. So successful was the new general training program that about 75 per cent of all college units now have been converted to the new plan.

Col. Lumry, whose duty at WT was extended one year on request of President James P. Cornette, established the unit's program of training, and its "extra-curricular" activities.

Col. Lumry hopes to take his family directly to Japan in December. The Lumrys' youngest daughter, Sharon, was born in Canyon.

Farm Bureau Has Resolutions Meet

A meeting to present resolutions that have been chosen by the board of directors of the Randall County Farm Bureau will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Farm Bureau office building in Canyon.

Charles SoRelle, chairman of the resolutions committee, will ask for further resolutions for the floor in case any member has a resolution he wants considered. Discussion of all resolutions submitted will be held.

Resolutions adopted at the county meeting will be presented at the state convention, and those adopted at the state level will be presented at the national convention.

Anyone who is interested in agriculture and farm legislation is invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Absentee Voting Starting Today

Absentee voting for the general election begins today, with ballots available at the county clerk's office.

Those who wish to vote absentee in the election must do so between today and Nov. 2. Ballots may be obtained by going to the clerk's office or by writing for them.

On the ticket for the election, which will be held Nov. 6, are national, state and county offices.

Who Needs Match? Scouts Do Without

Even in a day when every cigar counter has books of free matches and mechanical lighters are as common as sparrows, some people still like to build their fires the hard way.

At their meeting Monday night, the members of Boy Scout Troop 66 were hard at work, having a contest to see who could build a fire the quickest using only methods that the early American Indian used.

Demonstrations were given on both friction fires and flint and steel fires to show the new boys how to handle the skills, and then everyone had a chance for a little practice.

Starting off with the fire by friction contest, the scouts almost had a neck and neck contest as several got bugs almost simultaneously. (A bug is the material that drops down through the baseboard of the fire-making apparatus and begins to glow).

Roy Harris was credited with the first bug in seven seconds after the starting whistle. Bill Cornette, however, was the first to get a fire and burn a string into two pieces.

Cornette got his bug in eight seconds, the fire in 41 seconds and burned the string in one minute and 12 seconds. Craig Hinger and Harris placed second and third respectively. Marvin Hutton won first in the division for inexperienced boys.

In the flint and steel contest, Robert Hutton got the first bug in four seconds, but Bill Ransom was the first to burn the string—it took him 46 seconds. Second and third places went to Elo Myers and Hutton.

Rainbow Girls To Have Bake Sale

The Rainbow Girls will have a bake sale at Taylor & Sons from 9 until 12 Saturday morning. Proceeds will go toward Rainbow work.

YOUNG TAKEN TO PRISON

Clarence Edward Young was taken to the state penitentiary in Huntsville last week to begin a life term for the murder of Robert Boyd Chapman last March.

Before leaving Canyon, Young was tried on a charge of stealing Chapman's car, and was assessed an additional penalty of 10 years in prison after pleading guilty on the charge. The sentence will be concurrent with the life sentence.

The second trial was held in order that the conviction would be on Young's record when he is considered for parole from prison. Under present laws, Young would be eligible for consideration for parole after spending 15 years in prison.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. White

Final rites for Mrs. Melissa Welthy White were conducted Sunday afternoon in Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Claud Mickey officiating.

Pallbearers were Bud Rusk, Cecil Bosley, Haskell Harwood, B. C. Taylor, Robert Brotherton and G. W. Cox. Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery.

Mrs. White, 89, died Friday morning at her home at 1604 Eighth Avenue. She was born Mar. 28, 1867, and was the wife of the late Frances Marion White.

Survivors include a son, Paul White, Canyon; two daughters, Mrs. Mable Adams, San Angelo, and Mrs. Lydia Sanford, Amarillo; a brother, C. T. Sink, Fort Cobb, Okla.; 16 grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Urge Registration For Ex-Students

Canyon High alumni are requested to register when they attend any part of the Canyon High School Homecoming on Nov. 2.

Those who visit the school may register at the table which will be on the main floor between the doors of the auditorium. Another registration table will be placed just inside the gate at the football stadium at the Canyon-Muleshoe game so that those who attend the game but have not registered may do so.

Ex-students may also register at the social following the game, if they have not previously registered.

Guides and registrars for the homecoming will be members of the FTA and D. A. Shirley Club of the high school.

Open Conference Play With Tulia

Canyon High School football fans can expect some changes in the lineup when the Eagles meet Tulia in the first District 1-AA game for Canyon Friday night in Buffalo Stadium.

"You'll just have to wait until gametime to see them, but there'll be several changes in our lineup both offensively and defensively," Coach Guy Harrison said Tuesday. He declined to tell what the changes will be.

"This week's is likely to be a real tough one," he said. "Tulia doesn't have a real impressive record, but any team is capable of beating another on any given night."

Tulia has lost all of their five games so far, scoring only four touchdowns. They were beaten 6-0 by Memphis, 27-7 by Abernathy, 20-0 by Lockney, 33-6 by Hereford and 48-14 by Littlefield.

Canyon has won three and lost two so far, the latest loss being 14-6 to Littlefield last week. The Eagles beat Floydada 33-6, Hereford 46-13, Perryton 30-12 and lost to Dumas 19-12.

Eagle Halfback Don Britain will not play this week because he is scholastically ineligible, Coach Harrison said. C. B. Stone will return to his regular guard post after laying out during the Littlefield game because of a knee injury suffered in the Dumas game.

"We've got some minor injuries, but they'll play," the coach said.

Commenting on the Littlefield game, Coach Harrison said, "You can't win one when you are out fought, out hustled and out charged. They beat us across the line of scrimmage when we had the ball.

"When you recover five of their fumbles, you ought to be able to cash in on some of them," the coach said. "The only thing we looked better in than we had was passing."

In the game against Littlefield Canyon recovered five Wildcat fumbles, but was unable to turn any of the breaks for good advantage.

The Eagles passed 14 times, completing six for 53 yards. Prior to that game, the Eagles had passed 22 times, completing only four for 55 yards.

The game with Tulia will be the first conference game for both teams, and continues a rivalry that has stood for many years.

At last it's happened. I'd waited and waited and waited — missed it in 1950. As far as I am concerned, there's not much reason for going to any more Tech-West Texas football games, because I've seen the ultimate, but just wait and see if I don't make the trip to Lubbock next year.

And I hope to make it on a special train. That's really the way to go to a football game. Better than going, though, is the coming back. Pile on the train, find a comfortable seat and lean back.

The lights are turned down and snoozing takes over. Out on the highway the cars rush along, trying to beat the train, beat the crowd, beat the clock.

That train last Saturday was the handiest thing ever. It was just exactly the thing for those who wanted to go to the game and return in the shortest, easiest possible time. Leaving Canyon late in the afternoon, an hour or so after most everyone who went in cars, the train pulled up to the stadium in Lubbock right on time at 7:15. There was plenty of time to walk easily to the stadium, climb into the stands and sit back for the kickoff.

Those on the train had a shorter walk than some who went in cars, too. The special stopped less than a block from the street that fronts the Tech Stadium. The street was a half-block across, though, so that made it farther.

The police in Lubbock were fine, though. They sort of held up traffic so the trainload of fans could get across the street safely.

May I offer my personal thanks to the Ex-Student's Association, the WT Student Senate and to anyone else who had a hand in planning for the special train, promoting it and making sure there were enough passengers to ride it.

Let's have another one next year.

I heard a couple of guys talking about driving toward Lubbock Sunday so they could see Tech Coach DeWitt Weaver on his television show. It seems that a week ago, before the West Texas game, Weaver said that his team was "down" after losing three games, but his team was not so far "down" as to let "West Texas beat them."

I wonder what he had to say about the game. You can probably find lots of people who would be willing to wager that Tech will not win a single game this season. It looks as if members of the Southwest Conference are trying to prove that Tech isn't good enough for them, and members of the Border Conference are trying to do the same thing.

Since it was impossible to fire off the touchdown rockets at Lubbock last Saturday, H. R. Fulton made up for it Monday morning by firing five during the presidential donkey riding at Buffalo Stadium.

Pretty near the entire student body turned out for the event, which comes only occasionally, and quite a mass of people it was. There were enough to ring the football field, sometimes two deep. Aided by the band, Dr. Cornette, dressed in blue jeans, tuxedo jacket and black tie, and his spotted donkey made 300 yards—100 for the victory and 10 for every point between the West Texas and Tech scores. As you might expect, it took a lineman to get the yardage. Co-captain Philip Wright went along to keep the donkey moving and to keep him headed straight.

Before the ride, Bill Cross, the little outside man on the 1950 football team, told the students to forget about the 1950 championship team. "This one is better," he said. "I hope they don't slip up and let a weaker team beat them like we did."

Some time back, when he wasn't thinking straight, theater-impressario Charles Donnell told Buffalo Jack Vantrease that he would give every football player two free tickets to the movies if West Texas beat Tech. Since it came to pass, Donnell, in an exuberant mood, made it five tickets for each of the 66 players plus an additional five for each coach.

Three of the county commissioners are planning to do less road and bridge construction work in the coming year, and there's a good explanation for it.

Construction costs have grown so big that the commissioners have to save up for a couple of years before they can do any work to speak of. With paving costing anywhere from $6,000 to $15,000 a mile, you can see that it would be impossible to jump up and pave a long stretch at the drop of a hat.

The county expects to get $54,653 in ad valorem taxes for the road and bridge fund for the next year. The sum is split, with 30 per cent each going to Precincts 1 and 4 and 20 per cent each going to Precincts 2 and 3. In addition, the fund will get another $190,000 from motor vehicle registrations, the special road tax, from the state and several other places.

At any rate, Glenn Dowlen and Clarence Beckman are planning more construction for next year than for the present one—they've been through a period of saving. Charlie Johnson and Pat Baber figured less construction next year, they're ready for a saving period.

At any given time, the precinct fund balance for any commissioner might seem sort of out of proportion to the fund balances for other regular county funds. Like right now, the salary fund is going into the red, while the precinct funds show a healthy balance.

The difference comes because the commissioners have been saving up precinct money for future use, while the salary fund has been spent for salaries. Lots of times, people gripe about what seems to be an imbalance, yet they do not stop and realize that it takes a period of thrift and building a healthy balance before any work can be done.

I met another Amarillo man who plans to move to Canyon when the expressway is built. Riding the special Saturday night, he asked about lot locations and costs, building restrictions and the like.

"When the expressway is built, it'll only be 15 or 20 minutes to the office. We'll be in a small town, and there'll be a four-year college for the girls when they get old enough," he said. "I think we'll just sell our house in Amarillo and move down."

In one of his races for president, William Jennings Bryan told the group of newspapermen who were traveling with him, "There is one subject I would like to discuss in my speeches but I'd rather not bring it up myself. Would there be anything wrong if one of you would call out, 'How about the Philippines'?"

The newsmen said it would be all right and one of them agreed to be the one to do it. One day, this man (let's call him Smithers) saw a bar near the scene of the speaking, which was just starting, so he decided to have a drink. Which he did. Also a second and a third.

Then he returned and, from the edge of the crowd, called out, "How about the Philippines?" Bryan did not reply so, thinking the speaker had not heard, he sang out again, "How about the Philippines?" But still Bryan did not take cognizance of the inquiry.

Just then, Smithers felt his sleeve plucked and one of his colleagues hissed into his ear, "We looked around and you weren't here so Jones asked that question 10 minutes ago."

Back in the 1940's, your columnist attended a pioneers' reunion and one old-timer, in a conversation, related a story.

A preacher, in early days, was holding a revival. His wife died. Several nights later, he preached on the text, "Be sure your sins will find you out." He spoke with such fervor that suspicion was aroused. The woman's body was exhumed and examination disclosed that it contained a deadly quantity of poison.

The preacher had fallen in love with another woman.

Just then someone came up and the subject was dropped and I never learned whether the story was fact or fiction.

When Lincoln was a lawyer in Springfield, Ill., his wife bawled out the groceryman. He was offended and took it up with Lincoln. Abe smiled and replied, "You had one experience with her temper; I have to put up with it all the time." And then the grocer smiled, too.

Dear Editor:

We are familiar with the slogan of the Amarillo Daily News about their want ads getting results. I'm sure that they do, but it was my experience recently to find that Canyon News want ads also get results. After running my ad concerning morning play-groups for pre-school age children one week, I had enough children scheduled to begin my nursery school classes.

We have always enjoyed the Canyon News and certainly consider it an asset to our community as are our churches, schools, medical facilities and rapidly growing and improving business and residential sections. We are happy to live in a town with so many fine people.

State Dry from Top to Bottom

COLLEGE STATION — Records from the 27 agricultural experiment stations and field laboratories of the Texas A&M College System show that none received normal rainfall for the crop year, Sept. 1, 1955, through August, 1956, and several got less than half their normal fall.

Statewide, A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, says this is the worst drouth situation in history because most areas in the state have had several years in succession of below normal rainfall. It has made the job of keeping grass supplies ahead of livestock a tough one.

Walker says drouths are common to the state and ranchmen must include in their management plans provisions to take care of them, but when 6, 7 or 8 years of prolonged drouth must be reckoned with, some really tall figuring must be used.

He suggests steps which ranchmen can take during drouth periods. If some forage is left on the range, distribute the livestock so as to obtain uniform use of all forage.

A thorough job of culling and selection should be done in an effort to balance feed and livestock numbers. For the foundation herd, which is about all that remains on many ranches, Walker suggests feeding for the best possible calf or lamb crop.

This means, he adds, that enough forage must be supplied for both maintenance and reproduction. It takes a good calf or lamb crop to pay off loans so protein and vitamin A should be provided. In some areas phosphorus supplements are needed.

Walker suggests that low value roughages such as cottonseed hulls, oat straw, peanut hulls and others be used to replace a part of the more expensive roughages.

If no range forage is available, livestock should be kept in a small pasture for feeding. There is no point in letting the stock do further damage to depleted ranges by trampling the dry grass stubble.

If conditions warrant, small grain pastures should be planted. Local county agents can supply a copy of "Range Management versus Drouth." It should be a help in planning future operations.

Perhaps a "Little Business Administration" Is Needed

Many inquiries have been coming to my office seeking information as to the possibility of obtaining loans from the Small Business Administration. These inquiries are coming from businesses that I have always considered in the "small business" segment of our economy.

However, the fate of many of the applications for loans by these small businesses would indicate that our understanding of "small business" is somewhat different from those in charge of the SBA. It seems that the chances for a really "small" business to get a loan from the SBA are quite scarce.

One fellow told me that he was advised by the Small Business Administration that he would not be eligible for a loan from the SBA unless he could prove that he could not get the money from commercial banks. He stated that he proceeded to obtain this proof and presented it to the SBA.

Whereupon he was advised that it would be useless for him to try to get a SBA loan, because the fact that the banks would not let him have the money was proof that his credit was not good and, therefore, he could not qualify for a SBA loan.

It is entirely possible that there might have been other facts presented which caused the rejection of this man's application. However, I tell this story to point up the fact that, under the rules and regulations employed by the SBA, such a situation could easily have developed.

There is a very wide discretionary power in those in charge of the SBA, and numerous complaints have been voiced to the effect that such discretion has been arbitrarily exercised.

The Small Business Committee of the Congress has recently indicated alarm at the failure of the SBA to do what Congress had intended be done under the Act. One member of that Committee has told me that during several periods, the administrative expense of running that agency was far in excess of the entire amount of loans made.

In a pamphlet published in 1953 by the Small Business Administration, the criteria for determining a small business for loan purposes is set out as follows:

"A manufacturing concern is considered small if it employs 250 or fewer persons, including employees of affiliates, and large if it employs more than 1,000 persons; if it employs more than 250, but not more than 1,000 persons, it may be considered either small or large, depending on the employment size standard which the SBA has developed for its particular industry.

"Most wholesale concerns are classified as small if their yearly sales are $5,000,000 or less.

"Most retail and service trades firms are considered small if their yearly sales or receipts are $1,000,000 or less."

There is some feeling that too much attention has been paid by the Small Business Administration to those businesses that are near the top of the requirements, and too little to those that are at the bottom—in other words, manufacturing concerns employing 15 or 20 people, wholesale firms having a gross volume of several hundred thousand dollars rather than several million, and retail and service trades that have yearly volumes of less than $100,000 dollars, are not receiving proper attention.

It seems to me that a great deal more attention should be paid to business activities in the smaller cities. Many of these smaller cities are drying up economically because of the lack of any type of financing for the smaller business enterprises. Nothing could contribute more to the perpetuation of the American way of life than healthy and growing small businesses in the smaller cities.

If such policies are pursued, it will permit these smaller cities to become strengthened to the point that they can provide more and better facilities that will appeal greatly to many people who are seeking the freedom present in those localities and not present in the congested, metropolitan areas.

I sincerely hope that the Small Business Administration will act with more effectiveness to assist and bolster this segment of our economy.

If the Small Business Administration is not going to do this, then the Congress should make some provision to reconstitute that agency so that "little business"

Third Twirling Clinic Gives Technic Tips

Some tips on twirling techniques will be given Saturday at West Texas State College to some 200 area high school baton artists in the third annual twirling clinic and contest sponsored by the Buffalo Band.

International senior men's champion twirler, Norman Crider of Socorro, N. M., will be clinician and judge for the day's events which get underway at 10 a. m. with registration. Crider, 18-year-old holder of 75 open national championships, will demonstrate and teach fundamentals, advanced technics, two and three baton twirling, strutting routines, and fire, sparkler and hoop twirling.

A contest for solo and ensemble twirlers is slated at 4 p. m. in Buffalo Stadium, and first, second and third places will be awarded. Top winners will be presented a medal and trophy.

All twirlers will be presented at half-time at the WT-New Mexico A&M football game Saturday night.

Crider, who was for two years featured twirler with the New Mexico A&M band, has been cited as one of the world's three top men twirlers. He holds 74 trophies, 62 medals, and numerous titles, including international two-baton champion, national senior men's champion, New Mexico state champion, and Chicagoland Music Festival two-baton champion.

The New Mexico twirler is now a featured performer for the Hilton Hotels and has made appearances on national television shows including the Ed Sullivan program.

Dear Editor:

Please allow me to make a short note in rebuttal to one of your "reguears" whose letter was published in your paper, Oct. 10 issue.

G. S. complains about the "little man" being abused by our Government. 'Tain't so—for in the United States where opportunity is the same for all men, it is by man's own choice if he remains in dwarfdom in this great land of milk and honey.

One only has to check the records to see if the Government has made a little man out of this man who howls to high heaven that this government is "taking away men that which he hath" and leaving him "a little forgotten man." Look about him and his holdings and see if he is penniless and hungry. Shame on you, Mr. S. Do you not have faith in a supreme being who promises, "Trust in the Lord and do good and verily thou shalt dwell in the land and be fed."

And may I add this: When the government takes over and promises to take care of its people look what happens to them. Look at our Indian neighbors. Pitiful souls with children still living as they lived 100 years ago. They have no free enterprise whereby they could become independent. Education amongst these people, perhaps millions (I don't have the population figures b e f o r e me), couldn't be much lower.

There isn't very much difference in Democrat and Republican policies. It's simply a matter of how it is being done and by whom.

So if you will thank God for your blessings and stop your "belly aching," I think you would feel better. I'm poor, but I'm not looking for a handout from anyone and any one with your "steaks" in Randall County "oughta" be happy.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

W. Lee O'Daniel is back in the saddle again, riding the range for votes. This time it's a big bus and the Hillbilly Boys.

Twice refused a place on the general election ballot, "Pappy" is campaigning as a write-in candidate for Governor. He reports receipt of thousands of letters asking instructions as to how to vote "the write-in way."

First big bomb to be tossed by the former Democratic Governor was his endorsement of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for re-election as President of the United States.

Proof that O'Daniel means business is evidenced by the fact that he is advertising consistently by press and radio, statewide.

Other Campaigners

Texas strategists for Ike and Adlai will send fresh recruits into the field this week as campaigns enter the final month.

For Adlai, a "Democratic Victory Van," loaded with buttons, literature and speakers, was launched from Austin over the weekend. It will make a 30-day, 10,000 mile trek "to the forks of the creek."

Democrats for Eisenhower added a one-time Stevenson supporter to their crew. He is Johnston Murray, former Democratic governor of Oklahoma, now a Fort Worth businessman. Murray, a long-time friend of Gov. Allan Shivers, speaks Spanish fluently, and will make speeches mostly in South Texas.

Resignations

James H. Blundell of Dallas, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for less than a month, has resigned. His reasons were both personal and business.

Succeeding Blundell is Jim Lindsey, former speaker of the House of Representatives and State Representative from Texarkana, now head of the Texas Good Roads Association.

L. C. Page of Tyler, also a member of the committee, has resigned. He gave as his reason Stevenson's statement that he favored an end to the draft.

House Investigators To Meet

A loaded agenda awaits the House Investigating Committee meeting, beginning here Oct. 19.

Scheduled are: (1) Extensive inquiry into tidelands leasing procedures, as instructed by the last Legislature; (2) Preliminary consideration of a report to be made to the next session on insurance companies; (3) A report on the committee's inquiry into absentee voting in Webb County; (4) Discussion of possible recommendations that powers of any future investigating committee be limited lest it be "used as a political tool."

Prison Expansion Urged

Texas Prison System is in for "serious trouble" unless it gets more money for buildings and salaries.

Gen. Mgr. O. B. Ellis warned that the prisons cannot continue to "stack men up the way they are now." Also, said Ellis, the system is understaffed by 58 guards, and lacks even one psychiatrist to deal with the increasing numbers of "mentally irresponsible troublemakers."

In an Austin speech Ellis gave an advance outline of the expansion program he will seek from the next Legislature. His proposed "bare minimum" budget: $4,825,000 for new buildings and an $870,000 increase for operating costs, including salaries.

Three Million Jobs Seen

Three million jobholders in the state by 1957 is foreseen by the Texas Employment Commission.

TEC also predicted steadily rising employment through the fall with a peak in December well above last year's figure of 2,862,000.

Even before school openings brought a bustling upsurge, nonfarm employment had swelled to 2,901,500. Agricultural laborers totaled 273,600, which, despite drought, was 12,000 more than in 1955.

Business Record in Doubt

Economic experts are backing off from earlier predictions that Texas business in 1956 will top the 1955 record.

Retail merchants entered the fall months with the sales index off 8 per cent from a year ago. Automobile sales lagged 20 per cent.

Overall business activity for 1956 still is slightly higher than '55, says the UT Bureau of Business Research. But if the downward trends continue, hopes for a new record may be too optimistic.

Credit tightening has slowed, but not "seriously affected" Texas' rapid industrial expansion, says Dr. John Stockton, head of the research bureau.

Many Texas merchants look to a big holiday boom to bring up the year's average.

Washburn Verdict Reversed

The murder trial of Harry L. Washburn will have to be tried again. Texas' court of criminal appeals has reversed and remanded the Waco conviction.

Washburn has been given a life sentence in the auto-bomb killing of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver of San Angelo. Defense attorneys contended the state prejudiced the jury with "fact-laden questions" to a witness who claimed 5th Amendment immunity.

Washburn said he hoped for a new trial in his home town, Houston.

Short Snorts

Number of patients confined in Texas mental hospitals dropped during the past year, despite an increase in the number admitted.

Mental hospital rolls dipped from 16,445 in 1955 to 15,955 in 1956. But total number treated rose 1,621 in the same period.

Don't burn any trash until there is rain, Texas Forestry Service warns. Tinder-dry woods and fields already have resulted in widespread forest fires.

"Wets" won out in three recent local option elections held in Tarrant, Moore and Gregg Counties, reported the Texas Liquor Control Board. This made a total of seven defeats for dry forces in elections held since June. Others were in Potter, Gray, Dallam, Hutchinson and Moore Counties.

Men between 21 and 35 who want to be highway patrolmen may apply until Oct. 15, says the Department of Public Safety. Exams will be given this month. Applications go to Chief W. J. Elliott, Texas Highway Patrol, Austin.

State cigarette taxes dropped in September, but increased liquor revenue more than made up the difference. State Treasurer Jesse James reported cigarette money down $85,735 from a year ago, but liquor taxes up $141,858.

A new law authorizing the Insurance Commission to judge competency of company management will be tested in appeals court Feb. 20. Third Court of Civil Appeals in Austin will hear the case brought by John L. Hammond Company of Dallas.

President Eisenhower said that he had never heard of a proposal "on a serious basis" that the armed forces be reduced by about 800,000 men in 1958.

Don Standley New County Bond Head

D. E. (Don) Standley is the new U. S. Savings Bonds Chairman for Randall County. Announcement of the appointment was made by Nathan Adams, chairman of State Savings Bonds Committee.

Standley will direct all phases of promotion and the sale of Savings Bonds in Randall County. He becomes a member of the statewide volunteer organization whose efforts are contributed to public service.

The new Randall County Savings Bonds chairman is vice-president of the First National Bank of Canyon, a member of the First Baptist Church and is a director of the Rotary Club of Canyon. Standley succeeds Clyde W. Warwick who has resigned.

"Present times are and the next several years probably will be as critical as any during the past quarter of a century, and it is more than ever essential that everyone of us do all we can to keep ourselves, our community, our state and our nation strong," the new county chairman said.

"Purchasing Savings Bonds is a way everyone can help insure this strength and the bonds afford every citizen a means of helping himself and also the economic well-being of his community, our state and our country. Improved features of Series E and H Savings Bonds such as increased interest of 3% compounded semi-annually make the bonds more attractive and better investments than ever," he said.

The Savings Bonds quota for Randall County for 1956 is $350,000. The quota for Texas this year is $217.5 million. "Savings Bonds provide an easy patriotic and profitable means of saving for all of us," he added.

Hales Holsteins Win at State Fair

Two Holsteins owned by H. B. and Jones Hales and Richmond Hales won reserve championships in the Pan-American Livestock Exposition during the State Fair in Dallas.

The two animals won grand championships at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo during September.

In addition to the championships, animals from the Hales herds won places in 13 other divisions.

GATE-CLOSERS

Dear Friends

A farmer friend of ours paid Humble's field men a fine compliment recently.

He said, "There's one thing about you Humble people, you close gates."

Well, of course we do.

All of us at Humble want the good will of the folks with whom we do business. And among those folks, the farmers and ranchers who lease their land to us for exploration and production are right at the top of the list.

In fact, you farmers are partners with us in the development of a vital natural resource. If our efforts are successful then everyone involved benefits.

Keeping the gates closed and the fences mended— things like that are the least we can do.

We know. A lot of us grew up on farms and ranches.

Around the Town . .

By MRS. CLYDE W. WARWICK

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Morris and their daughter, Catherine Ann, have moved into their new home at 2414 Seventh Avenue. The house is built of American Beauty brick with grey mortar, a grey roof and white trim. The front entrance and the porch at the rear are to have ornamental iron posts and corners. These were made by Milton's brother who has an ornamental iron factory in Sheffield, Ala. Mrs. Morris said they were using lots of iron because of this brother, who not only works with iron but considers it useful, permanent and beautiful.

The home has an entrance hall which leads on the right to the living room and combined dining room and on the left to the two bedrooms and bath. There is a spacious kitchen with a small hall leading to the double garage and extra bath. The garage has large closets lining one whole side, with a roll away bed in one. The bath off the kitchen is in green tile. The kitchen is finished in natural color birch good, oatmeal ceramic tile, with hammered copper hinges and holds. The room is large enough for a table and the washer and dryer which they expect to add soon. It is a light, airy room with windows on the south and west, opening onto the back porch which is large enough for lounging or entertaining. This porch is closed in on the west with a flower box in which Mrs. Morris has honeysuckle growing and opens on the south to the back yard.

The living room and dining room are carpeted with a light beige, sculptored carpet. The walls are the same color, giving a feeling of spaciousness. The den opens off these two rooms. It is finished in natural color driftwood and opens onto the rear porch. The south end of the den has two windows with a built-in desk below them. The rest of this wall is used for book shelves, cabinets and drawers.

The two bedrooms are well arranged. Both have large double closets and Cathy's room has a study area with built-in desk and shelves. Cathy is a sophomore in Canyon High School.

The bathroom is finished in ceramic tile in Persian brown trimmed with chocolate brown. There are large closets everywhere. Their new home shows much careful planning and will in return give much pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris came to Canyon 20 years ago just after they were married. Morris taught agriculture, coached, and was principal of Canyon High School until 1940 when he joined the faculty of WTSC. Recently he took over management of the Ex-Students Association, a work he has always taken a great interest in. This year, one thing the Ex-Students Association is doing of which he is especially proud, and in which he has taken a great part is helping 21 students to come to WTSC who could not have come without the financial help given them by the Exes. He helps these students get work, supervises them and, best of all, gives them moral support. His untiring efforts are building up a live Ex-Student Association.

Mrs. Morris received her M.A. degree from WTSC last year and has been teaching in Amarillo High School. At present she is recuperating from their recent car accident, but intends to resume teaching next semester.

The Morrises are members of the Methodist Church and have made themselves a vital part of Canyon.

Edward is professor of journalism at the University of Minnesota and gathered the material for his book during the year he spent with his family in England. This is the second book Edward has written. The other, "The Press and the Constitution," is a summary and discussion of legislation and court decisions involving freedom of the press. Both are valuable books which show much careful thought.

Mrs. T. C. Thompson, who has been confined to her home for the last several years by illness, is as interested in people and business as ever. T. C., knowing this and afraid he might forget something he could tell her, puts a clean sheet of paper in his typewriter every morning and makes a note of everything that happens of interest and takes these notes home with him at noon, then when he returns in the afternoon he does the same thing—thus she is kept in touch with events downtown. Just another kind and thoughtful act of Mr. Thompson's many.

Texans Find Ike Stands For Same Things We Do

A fellow was in our town the other day selling men's suits. He was from St. Louis, and he said he was a manufacturer's representative. Grandpa would have called him a dry goods drummer, and Papa would have referred to him as a traveling salesman. This shows you how things change with time. But actually that fellow from St. Louis was doing just about what the earlier visitors did—trying to sell suits.

You might say that he stayed in the same place but the names went off and left him. Reminded me some of the political situation in Texas.

I was reading a letter in the daily newspaper last week, from a man who said he was going to vote for Eisenhower. "I am a Democrat," he wrote to the editor of the paper, "but I feel like the party has run off and left me."

Come to think of it, a lot of conservative-type Texas Democrats are in that shape today. They haven't changed their views much on such things as local control, government spending, bureaucratic red tape, and freedom of the individual; they still travel down the same road they did 20 or 30 years ago, even if they do it at 70 miles an hour instead of 25.

They grew up believing that a man could live down nearly anything except voting for a Republican. They always voted 'er straight, until a good many of them jumped over the traces in '52 and went for Ike.

"I can't figure out what's happened," one of them told me. "Seems like Eisenhower talks like a Democrat and Stevenson talks like a college professor."

The other day this same fellow said: "I think I've got it figured out. Ike stands for the things us Texas Democrats have always stood for. Adlai is too thick with Walter Reuther and that crowd to suit me. I'm going for Ike again."

That's the way with most folks in our town. They decided to give Ike a try at it in '52, and they like the way he has gone about the job. There are some things they wished he'd done a little different, but by and large they think he has made us a fine President. At least all the hometown boys are back from Korea, and as far as we can tell the government is being run honestly.

Somebody asked that Missouri suit salesman how Mr. Truman was getting along, and he said he didn't know. "He isn't in the clothing business any more," he explained. "In fact, as far as I can tell, he is clear out of all kinds of business."

Yours Truly,
Tex.

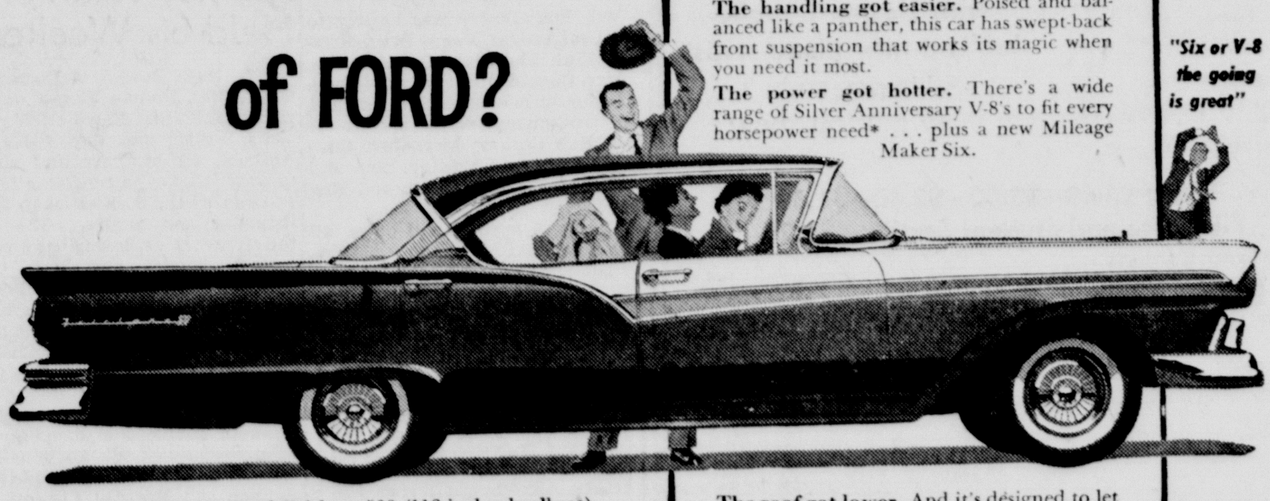
What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?



The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

"Six or V-8 the going is great"

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

The wheelbase got longer . . . so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need* . . . plus a new Mileage Maker Six.

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater . . . the price is still Ford-low.

*A Special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

SEE IT FOR YOURSELF!

So now you know the magic of the '57 FORD!

WT Homecoming To Be Nov. 17

The day of the old grad—Homecoming—has been set at West Texas State College. The annual celebration for ex-students, highlighted by a reunion of the silver anniversary class of 1931, will be held Nov. 17.

Scheduled later in the year than usual, the celebration will feature day-time events, centered around the afternoon football game between WT's Buffaloes and the Texas Western Miners.

Bulging attendance at WT's Homecoming during the past few years, has also forced other changes, particularly in plans for the traditional barbecue.

Since nearly 6,000 persons dined last year on the outdoor cooked beeves, financing of the feast by contributions has had to be abandoned. A uniform price of 50 cents a plate will be charged this year.

Main calendar of events for the day includes registration at 8 a. m.; the Homecoming parade at 10:30 a. m.; the barbecue at noon; the game at 2 p. m.; club teas, smokers and parties at 4:30 p. m., and the traditional dance at 8 p. m.

Affairs for the Class of '31 begin Friday, Nov. 16, with a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Jarrett in Canyon. Another class member, Mrs. A. W. Hawks of Amarillo, will be co-hostess. Registration, a coffee hour and reunion events are slated Saturday morning at 8 in Randall Hall ballroom.

In charge of the reunion are two Portales, N. M., men, M. G. Hunt, vice-president of the Class of '31, and Eurith Compton, secretary.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District are vitally interested in helping prevent soil from blowing this season. The blowing season starts in November and ends in May. This gives us about six to seven months of winds of high velocity.

In the past these high winds have caused considerable damage to our farm land. This year we are entering the blow season with very few growing crops, very little stubble on the land, and with the soil extremely dry. With these conditions we could very easily have considerable blowing this season.

To combat wind erosion it has been found by experiments held in Kansas that fields most subject to wind erosion were generally those that lacked a vegetable cover. Emergency tillage was used effectively after wind erosion had started.

Chiseling on hardlands was especially effective provided the chisels dug in deeply and were not spaced over two feet apart. Listing was the most effective method used.

On hardland soils, 500 pounds of residue per acre and an average of 44 per cent of nonerodible clods will allow little or no soil removal by the wind.

Too much grazing on grain sorghum fields will cause these fields to blow. On some fields the stubble should not be grazed at all. It is almost impossible to replace any top soil that is lost by wind erosion.

One inch of topsoil blown or washed from one acre of ground amounts to approximately 162 tons, soil conservationists say.

Get Inspected Now, Avoid Last Day Rush

Texas motorists are exercising the old American custom of putting off until tomorrow what ought to be done today and Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has expressed some concern that the practice is responsible for considerable lagging in the state's motor vehicle inspection program.

The first month of the new inspection period ended on October 15 and Garrison noted that only 4% of the registered vehicles have been inspected. The period runs through April 15, 1957.

"The inspection period embraces a full seven months," Garrison said, "and that means that a minimum of 14% of the cars must be checked each month in order to avoid unnecessary rushes on the weeks of the period."

Meanwhile, George W. Busby, DPS Motor Vehicle Inspection Division Chief, reported that a total of 3,663,000 cars were inspected during the year which ended last September 14. Of these, slightly more than 1½ million, or 43%, needed some adjustment or repair before meeting the approved standards. Average cost for such services was 88 cents.

The most common defect found by the state's more than 4,200 licensed inspection stations during the year was in 29% of the cars which needed headlights adjusted or repaired, Busby announced.

He said that the second most frequent mechanical deficiency was the 10% of cars which required adjustment or repairs of foot brakes.

A Sport Reports

By DICK KRANZ

Canyon's loss to Littlefield last week sort of upset the dope-bucket as far as the favorite position is concerned as the District 1-AA schedule opens Friday night.

Prior to last weekend, Canyon was a clear-cut favorite to take the district without too much trouble. Now it appears the district race might be much tougher.

The Olton Mustangs loom as the biggest possible threat on a comparative score basis. Olton and Canyon have played three common foes with Olton coming off with two wins and a tie and Canyon gaining two victories and taking a loss.

Canyon's Eagles defeated Floydada, 32-6; Hereford, 46-13; and lost to Littlefield, 14-6. Olton defeated Floydada, 33-13; Hereford, 19-6; and tied Littlefield, 12-12.

The Mustangs go into the district play with the best non-conference record, 3-1-1; while Canyon and Muleshoe have 3-2 marks. However, coach Guy Harrison's Eagles still will be the favorite because they've scored the most points, 126, and their opponents to the fewest points, 63, in comparison with other district teams' non-league records.

While Canyon is the favorite and Olton the next most likely to succeed, the Dimmitt Bobcats and the Muleshoe Mules carry the darkhorse label. The Dalhart Wolves and the Tulia Hornets rank in the also-ran class as the race opens.

In Friday's games, Canyon will be favored over Tulia; Dimmitt over Dalhart; and Olton over Muleshoe.

District 1-AA non-conference records are:

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	Opp.
Olton	3	1	1	111	82
Canyon	3	2	0	126	63
Muleshoe	3	2	0	113	79
Dimmitt	2	3	0	108	112
Dalhart	1	3	1	79	99
Tulia	0	5	0	27	134

★ ★ ★

The very happy West Texas State Buffaloes, having ripped arch-foe Texas Tech, 34-14, in their greatest triumph over the Red Raiders, still have four Border Conference and a non-conference game ahead of them. If the Buffs can win those remaining five, they'll have accomplished an undefeated season something no previous West Texas team has done.

The New Mexico A&M Aggies are the Buffs' next foe at 8 p. m. Saturday in Buffalo Stadium. The Aggies, having lost five straight, are a young, up-and-coming team and are tougher than the record indicates. However, West Texas will be favored to handle the Aggies.

Texas Tech, dropping four straight, have an open date. It's been a long time since the Raiders have lost their first four games.

Some quotes from after the Oklahoma 45-0 lacing of Texas:

Mike Michalske, assistant coach at Texas, said he thought Oklahoma would beat Notre Dame by 30 points . . . Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson said about his team's No. 1 rating in national polls, "We haven't had a real test yet. Texas is good and sound but nothing exceptional. We don't know our potential yet. When you come into the fourth quarter one touchdown behind that's when you really find the potential of your ball club."

The Southern Methodist at Rice game at 8 p. m. Saturday will be telecast over KGNC-TV, the station officials report. A pro game, we believe Baltimore at Chicago Bears, will be telecast over KFDA-TV Sunday afternoon. And the Friday night fight will be on KGNC-TV.

DISTRICT 1-AA schedule: Friday - Tulia at Canyon; Dalhart at Dimmitt; Olton at Muleshoe. Last weekend's results - Littlefield 14, Canyon 6; Perryton 33, Dalhart 0. Other teams open dates.

It's Modern It's Clean if it's Electric!

J. W. PEARSONS, 510 ANGELO CIRCLE, CARLSBAD, N. M., say:

They point out that a busy home requires husband and wife to share in the household duties. As Mr. Pearson says, "My wife is so busy with the children that I do a lot of the cooking. And I enjoy our electric range because it is quicker and a whole lot cleaner. Our electric range gives us a complete selection of controlled heat for any size pan, which is a big help for any cook." You'll notice the difference, too, when you start cooking electrically.

The Pearsons heat their water electrically, too. Mrs. Pearson says, "With a family of 5, including a baby, which sometimes requires as many as 3 washer loads of clothes a day, our water heater is economical, less than 10 cents a day to operate. It's completely safe, even for small children. In fact, we have put it in an open alcove in the hall." Notice in the picture, Mrs. Pearson fixes her daughter's shoe while daughter and mother obviously feel no wasted heat coming from the electric water heater. And that's because an electric water heater has no flame, and so is insulated on ALL sides.

3-A Wildcats Chew Up Eagles, 14-6

Failing to cash in on five recovered fumbles, the Canyon High Eagles were shot from the sky by the 3-A Littlefield Wildcats Friday night at Littlefield by a score of 14-6.

The Eagles also lost two fumbles, but the Wildcats were unable to do anything about them, either. All the scoring came in the first half, with the Wildcats punching across the goal line first, the Eagles next and the Wildcats coming through again.

The halftime statistics showed both teams close to even, with Canyon leading 85 rushing yards to 83 and the Eagles ahead on passing yards. But the end told a different story—Littlefield led 215 yards to 167 rushing, 20 first downs to 13 and was behind 25 to 53 in passing yards.

Wildcat halfback Mike Greer tallied first for Coach Gene Mayfield's Wildcats on a two-yard plunge when the game was only four minutes and 37 seconds old. James Pressley ran an Eagle punt back for 70 yards and the second score. Floyce Pierce made the two conversions.

Eagle halfback Don Britain made the single score for Canyon on a three-yard plunge after the Eagles moved the ball from their own 25.

Littlefield kicked off into the end zone to begin the game and A. L. Pruett returned to the 5 before being downed. Harlie Adams carried twice and Britain once, but only five yards were gained and Charles Neblett kicked to the 50 where the ball was downed.

Greer carried for no gain, Max Morris for 28 yards to the 22, Buddy Jones to the 19, Morris to the 12, and then to the 10, and Jones carried again to the 9. Greer took to the four and Morris made it to the 2.

Greer plunged over from there to end the 50-yard drive with the first score of the game. Pierce's kick was good.

Canyon received the second kickoff on the goal line and Adams ran it back to the 24. Britain made two and Neblett 15 to the 41.

Neblett made another yard and Eddie Boydston carried to the 44. Neblett's first pass of the game was intercepted on the Littlefield 38-yard line by Bobby Cunningham, who ran it back to the 48.

The Wildcats began another march with Greer making 17 yards on the first play. Morris, Jones and Greer alternated the carrying chores and moved down to the 19 where Jones fumbled and Neblett recovered.

In three plays, the Eagles were back up to the 28, but Neblett was forced to kick again, this time to the Littlefield 41. It was brought back to the 45.

Pressley attempted a pass and Morris made three yards to the 48 as the first quarter ended. Pressley lost two yards, then kicked to the Canyon 22. Neblett ran it back for three yards.

The Eagles started their touchdown drive from there. Boydston lost two, Pruett threw to Larry Brandon to the 27, then to Britain to the 40 for a first down.

Adams carried twice to the Canyon 49 and Britain went to the Littlefield 48 for another first down. Pruett kept for one yard, threw to Boydston for two more, then to Leonard Miller for another first down on the 36.

Adams scooted to the 21 for the fourth first down of the drive and Britain carried one more yard.

Pulling a surprise, Adams took the ball from Pruett and started around end. Before reaching the line of scrimmage he threw the ball to Miller for 17 yards to set up the touchdown on the 3.

Britain went over from there with 4:59 left in the first half, but his extra-point try was no good.

Kicking off to the 15, Canyon held the Wildcats to three offensive plays for no gain after the ball was runback to the 40. Greer kicked to the Canyon 24 where the ball went dead.

Boydston made two yards and Adams three, then Pruett threw an incomplete pass. He kicked then to the Littlefield 30, but Pressley gathered the ball in and raced behind good blocking to the goal line—a 70-yard runback.

Pierce's second extra-point try was good and Littlefield led Canyon 14-6 with 2:19 left in the half.

Taking the kickoff back to the Canyon 48, the Eagles started moving again. Britain carried to the Littlefield 47, Pruett to the 44 and then to the 40 for a first down. Pruett carried again to the 36 then threw three incompleted passes to end the half.

After the halftime band shows, the Eagles took the ball on the 32 and Britain carried back to the 35. Adams made a first down on the 43 then Britain carried again to the 50. With an offsides penalty added, the first of the game, the Eagles moved into the Wildcat end of the field on the 45.

Adams carried to the 41, then to the 36, and Britain made another first down on the 35. Adams carried to the 34, then Britain ran to the 30 before fumbling and losing the ball.

Greer made an even 10 yards, lost two and Jones went to the 41. Pressley threw a 22-yard pass to Jones for a first down on the Canyon 37, but Morris ended the drive by fumbling on the 30.

The Eagles were unable to do much with the ball, however. In four tries the ball was moved to the 39, but it went over on downs at that point.

Littlefield started another drive, moving 34 yards to the Canyon 2 in five plays, only to lose the ball on a fumble by Morris.

The Eagles moved the ball out of the danger zone in a hurry with Boydston making one and Adams 15 to the 18. But they bogged down there with Pruett ending the series with a kick from the 22 to the 42 and out of bounds.

Greer took the ball on the first play and ran to the 31, but Pressley lost three yards and the ball on a fumble at the 34-yard line.

Britain went to the 37 and Adams to the 38. Neblett made no gain there and Pruett kicked to the end zone.

Taking the ball on the 20, Pressley ran to the 23 and fumbled. Adams made a run, but it was called back by a holding penalty against Canyon, then Adams fumbled and lost the ball after losing 9 yards to the 47.

Littlefield began another long drive. In 12 plays the ball was down on the Canyon 12 with six yards left for a first down and it was fourth coming. A short pass from Pressley to Willard Wayne gained only three yards and the Wildcats lost the ball.

With 4:15 left in the game, Canyon took off like scared Eagles, moving the ball out to the 34 in four running plays. Pruett passed once, then turned over the quarterbacking chores to Neblett, who three incomplete once and connected with Boydston to the 44. He connected with Brandon to the Littlefield 45, but the play was called back for a penalty. His next pass was incomplete and the Eagles had their last chance at the ball on the Canyon 40.

With 2:11 left, the Littlefield team stalled around, running the clock out in four plays.

The statistics were:

	C	L
Rushing Yards	215	167
First Downs	13	20
Passes Tried	14	5
Completed	5	2
